ABOUT WFATT

WFATT provides international leadership and collaboration in the healthcare profession of Athletic Training / Athletic Therapy to optimize the health of active populations. WFATT links 55 member associations across 12 countries in 4 different continents. WFATT's aim is to promote the Athletic Training/Therapy profession, cultivate collaboration and highlight the education content to create a truly global presence. WFATT was formed in 2000 under the leadership of the NATA (USA) and CATA (Canada). In the early years, athletic trainers and therapists from the US and Canada represented the WFATT in workshops and presentations in several countries, promoting and teaching the basic skills of taping, injury assessment, and emergency management of injuries. However, as the profession has grown since its inception over 2 decades ago, notably, these workshops and world congresses have been held in China, Ireland, and England. In each of these countries athletic training and therapy has developed into a recognized profession and educational programming has evolved into formal university curricula.

ABOUT ARTI

Athletic Rehabilitation Therapy Ireland (ARTI) is the governing body responsible for the promotion, regulation and continued education of Certified Athletic Therapists in Ireland. Athletic Therapy/Training (AT) is a global allied healthcare profession, specialising in musculoskeletal medicine through the prevention, assessment, treatment and rehabilitation of injuries occurring during physical, sporting and occupational activities. ARTI is a proud member of the International Arrangement, supporting the global mobility of Certified Athletic Therapists and Trainers from across the USA, Canada and UK, ensuring comparable best practices, quality education and professional standards. ARTI is also a charter member of the World Federation of Athletic Training and Therapy where we have previously held this prestigious international conference in 2014 and now again in 2024.
